Mr. Lindsey was stricken as he started for his grocery store down town about 7:30 Monday morning. Realizing that he was seriously ill, he called to his wife who rushed to him and assisted him back to the room where he lapsed into unconsciousness. Medical aid was summoned immediately but little hope was held for his recovery from the first few hours of the attack.

He died without regaining consciousness and all during the day Monday and until late Tuesday night citizens of Cameron who knew and loved the deceased, went to inquire about his condition. When news came late Tuesday of the death of Mr. Lindsey the expressions of sorrow was universal for no man who has ever lived in Cameron had more friends or was ever more universally liked than Was D. L. Lindsey.

Sam Hefley is a candidate for reelection to the office of representative from Milam county to the Texas Legislature, subject to the action of the July Democratic primary.

Mr. Hefley is serving his first term in the house from Milam county and his work has been satisfactory to the voters of this district. WRESTLING MATCH JAN. 31 FEATURES MILLER AND KARHUNSAARI

'3 Wise Fools' Celebrated Comedy Friday Night

VIC MILLER TO MEET KARHUNSAARI HERE

TUESDAY NIGHT CARD TO FEAT-URE OKLAHOMA WHIRL-
WIND WRESTLER

Vic Miller, the light heavyweight whirlwind from Pawhuska, Oklahoma, proved the sensation of the month in the Legion wrestling card.

He defeated Joe Montana Tuesday night in the best exhibition of wrestling skill that has been shown here since the great Ketonen lost to Karhunsari.

Montana put up the fight of his life but could not resist the persistent attack of the Sooner state octopus. Montana lost two straight falls. The Brooklyn man, now of Cameron gave the Oklahoma man all he wanted in that first fall and the fans are well pleased with the show.

Karhunsari who won from Ketonen and succeeding to the title held by the Worcester wonder, is giving more than ten pounds in the forthcoming match. The title is not involved but many fans here believe that Miller will throw the Finn. On the other hand fans say the Mighty Finn will prove a match for the crafty Pawhuska man.

Miller is full of tricks and is smart and has wonderful endurance.

Both men are in intensive training for the match and the best card of the season is promised.

The Legion men are paving the way for a return match here in February between Karhunsari and Ketonen.

YEARS—WELL KNOWN IN CITY

Anton Kunz died suddenly at his residence here Sunday night, January 22, 1928, following a heart attack.

Death came to Mr. Kunz suddenly, having been stricken while crossing the street to the home of a neighbor. Medical aid quickly summoned could not revive the aged veteran citizen who had lived much of his life in the Cameron community numbering his friends by the score.

The news of the death of Mr. Kunz spread over the city quickly and everywhere was the expression of regret for the loss of so good and faithful citizen.

Mr. Kunz was born September 15, 1861 and died at 9:30 p. m. January 22, 1928 at the age of 67 years, four months and 7 days. He was a native of Austria but like many of the pioneers came to the western world to seek his happiness and fortune.

He came to America in 1880 and to Milam county in 1884. In the spring of that year he was married to Miss Magdalena Moraw who died in 1917. To them were born seven children, six surviving. EPISCOPAL MINISTER MAKES APPEAL FOR SUNDAY OBSERVANCE; SHOULD NOT JUDGE OTHERS BUT LAW IS PLAIN

A Sermon By
REV. J. P. LOVE

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all that thou hast to do—but—the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God, in it thou shalt do no manner of work—neither thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy servants, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates."—Exodus 20: 8-10.

"Jesus said unto them 'The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath.'"—Mark 2: 27.

We have before us two passages from Holy Scripture which we may profitably consider. The first is from the Old Testament, a part of God's law, known as the fourth commandment given by God himself to his chosen people and engraven on a table of stone, a law that has ever continued on the statute books of the Jewish church, a basic law that has been recognized and accepted by the Christian church from its very beginning, incorporated into its teachings and acknowledged in its services.

The second quotation, "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath," are the words of Jesus of Nazareth who had been accused by the self righteous churchmen of his day of transgressing the law, for as he was walking through the fields

The following star players will give the play: Carson Davenport, Edwin Brady, Henry Herbert, Betty Reynolds, Eva Sargent Robert White, Theodore Newton Jack Ball, Cleds Brown and Philip Madison. New York Papers said: Golden has picked another. He aims for the heart.—New York Sun. Irresistible, a blend which cannot fail to be popular.—New York Times. Delicious, a play of exceptional merits.—New York Herald. Most skillfully built comedy presented in years.—New York Globe. A success, wonderfully appealing, human and most interesting.—Brooklyn Eagle. Microscopically examined and found perfect, admirably acted.—Alan Dale, American.

Remember this is the play that has been given for a year at the Criterion, New York, three months, Garrick, Philadelphia; six months, Powers, Chicago; three months, Tremont, Boston.

Wrestling Card at Milano Fri. Night

Featuring John Dees, wrestler who has accepted a challenge issued by Travis Phillips of Houston, the American Legion at Milano will stage a wrestling match.

Dees gives promise of great development and has traveled over the state in feature wrestling cards.

Both men are light heavy weights. Dees will be seen in Cameron next Tuesday night in the role of a boxer. He will be featured here in a wrestling match soon.

on the Sabbath day he and his apostles had broken off some heads of ripened wheat, rubbed them in their hands and eaten the grain.

Now of course this accusation seems very foolish to you and to me, but I doubt not that the Pharisees at this time were seriously in earnest and much concerned when this mighty teacher who had such a large following, openly violated their own interpretation of the fourth commandment of the law. Had not these Jewish leaders the same misconception of the Sabbath that many religious enthusiasts have in this, our day? They elevate the Sabbath day to a position of importance greater than that of man.

They have a code of by laws of their own which they invariably prescribe under all circumstances for all sorts and conditions of men.

They interpret Sabbath observance in such a way as to make many Christian men and women, young and old, rebellious and resentful and perhaps they drive many away from the practice of religion which they have made too exacting.

And these self-righteous churchmen and women seem to enjoy sitting in judgment on those both in and out of the church who transgress their man made interpretation of the Sabbath law, while they do not realize that they too, are being judged by (continued to page four)

TAX SUIT AGAINST THE SANTA FE WON BY STATE

NOTABLE TAX CASE ENDS WITH COUNTY COLLECTING ALL
MONEY DUE FOR TAXES

Milam county was successful in the suit brought against the Santa Fe railroad, the verdict just rendered in District court by Judge John Watson, commands the railroad to pay over to the county all money due for taxes. Here is a brief history of the case:

On the first of August 1927, the State of Texas in her own behalf and on behalf of Milam county and her road and school districts, brought suit against the Gulf Colorado and Santa Fe railroad company for 17,169.59, alleged to be due for taxes, interest and penalties for the year 1926.

On August 13th, 1927, (after the filing of said suit,) the defendant paid to the tax collector of Milam county, $14174.19 all that it claimed were due. The plaintiff admitted said payment but claimed that the defendant was still due $3,051.00.

The case went to trial on the 16th. The defendant demanded a jury, but after the pleadings and evidence were heard, by agreement of both parties, the case was withdrawn from the jury and the jury discharged and all matters of fact as well as of law were submitted to the court, who, after hearing the evidence and the argument of the attorneys on both sides, took the matter under advisement and on the 20th rendered a decision for the plaintiff for the sum of $3,051.00, the amount claimed by plaintiff to be due. The State was represented by A. J. Lewis, County attorney and J. M. Ralston. The defendant by Chambers and Gillis and Duff of Beaumont.

NOTED TEMPERANCE ORATOR COMING HERE

'AS ORIENT SEES AMERICA' SUB-JECT OF HIS ADDRESS
FEBRUARY 23

The flag of prohibition is again raised and Pussyfoot Johnson is marching on Cameron.

The noted Temperance speaker will deliver an address at the First Methodist church in Cameron on Thursday, February 23, 1928 at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "As the Orient Sees America."

The circular says the gathering will be a community mass meeting. With Mr. Johnson will be Major F. B. Ebbert, a prohibition lecturer. He will speak on the "Unfinished Battle." Johnson is just back from a tour of Europe. Major Ebbert lives in Los Angeles.

The meeting is one of hundreds now being held over America. The campaign against Al Smith is under way. Prohibition forces are opposed to Al Smith or any other wet either of the big parties attempts to nominate.

Regarding Mr. Johnson the circular says the following:

This renowned "Citizen of the World" has just returned from a six month's tour of Europe. At every meeting he was greeted by large crowds. The wets heckled him. The dries shouted themselves hoarse in his honor. Back in America, with a wonderful story of the growing for prohibition in the European countries.

Last year he toured India, in that great Empire in a period of six weeks, traveled 7,000 miles, making 200 addresses, which were listened to by an aggregate of 1,500,000 people. Whole front pages of daily newspapers were devoted to him and his speeches. You are invited, not only to hear his wonderful story but also to shake his hand and bid him God-speed.

Johnson first became known as "Pussyfoot" when, as Chief Officer in the Indian g service, under the Roosevelt and Taft administrations, he personally arrested hundreds of outlaws, who had defied arrest for years, and put thousands of them behind penitentiary bars.

As an author, his several books in the interest of reform have had wide circulation.

As a delegate of the World League Against Alcoholism in London he lost an eye through mob violence, and because of his sportsmanlike attitude toward his misfortune, he won over completely the British public. Throughout the whole world "Pussyfoot" is damned by wets and idolized by dries. Those who hear and shake hands with "Pussyfoot" will ever look back upon it as one of the events of their lives.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Cameron Pastor on Visit to Oil Lands in Kleberg County

Rev. O. J. Cole, county missionary for the Baptist association and former pastor at Kingsville, has just returned from a visit there, being accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary Cole.

Rev. Cole owns 246 acres of land near Kingsville and is adjacent to the Kleberg oil field. Last week a well was brought in there making 800 barrels. This well is in two and a half miles of the farm owned by Rev. Cole. The Kleberg field is a shallow field and has been producing for a number of years. Like the Corsicana field which is one of the oldest in Texas, the field at Kleberg gives promise of deep oil and the efforts to find this pool has rewarded drillers with an 800 barrel well.

While there Rev. Cole and daughter visited, Mrs. H. A. Kirkland, daughter at Robstown.

Observing The Sabbath

their own code of by laws.

What a pity it is that we do not look more often into the recesses of our spiritual natures and see ourselves as others see us and yet deeper still see ourselves as God sees us.

But my friends I do not want you to misunderstand me. There is a law given by Almighty God, concerning the Sabbath, the very same one which was given through his servant Moses over 3400 years ago, a law which has come down through the centuries unchanged and in its original form.

No mere man has any right to change God's law, yet some have added, "burdens, grievous to be borne" and some have subtracted that which interferes with man's pursuit of earthly gains and that which deprives him of unnecessary luxuries on the Sabbath day.

Not even Jesus Christ the God-man in all his revelations of God the Father and of his love toward his earthly children, gave the slightest cause for us to think that the decalogue was subject to change. On the contrary in his great sermon on the Mount as Jesus taught his disciples he said, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets, but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled."

The jot you must know was the smallest of the Hebrew letters and the tittle a minute projection by which otherwise similar Hebrew letters are distinguished.

Continuing Jesus said, "Whoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments and teach men so, he shall be called least in the Kingdom of Heaven, but whosoever shall do and teach them shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven."

So we may be well assured by these strong and convincing words of our Lord Jesus that God's law of the Sabbath, together with his laws concerning murder, theft, adultery, covetousness, false witness, honor of parents, worship of idols, taking of the Lord's name in vain and the substitution of a creature for the creator are still in effect and the breaking of any of these laws, especially by those who believe in God Almighty is a sin—for sin is the transgression of the law.

We are all sinners and what is more we all know it and what is still more you and I are often little concerned about our acknowledged transgressions of God's holy laws.

When in the Lord's prayer we pray for forgiveness, do we really mean it? Have we a right to expect forgiveness when, as we pray, we are firm in our determination to continue wilfully and gladly and unnecessarily to break the law of the Sabbath or any of the other laws of God, just as we choose.

Of course we are always ready to excuse ourselves, perhaps our favorite saying is the "ox was in the ditch". It is at least a miserably poor excuse to wilfully misapply the words of the Lord Jesus. The ox he referred to, had accidentally fallen into a ditch, but yours and mine has often been purposely shoved in, then left in the ditch on Saturday so that we might labor and have others also labor for us, on Sunday.

Another favorite way we have of excusing ourselves is by saying, "The times are so very different today, we have progressed, some labor is necessary now that was unheard of then; which is all very true. But what about the labor that you and I perform on Sunday, which we could accomplish on the other days and nights of the week? And what about the unnecessary labor of others for us, which we expect, receive, yes even demand on Sunday thereby persuading or compelling others to break the fourth commandment of God's law, simply to please our whims or for our convenience.

I wonder if any of you are wondering why this discourse on Sunday observance. To relieve your mind I want to say that it is the follow up of a mass meeting held several weeks ago in the interest of Sunday observance and a check up by myself of the business activities in Cameron on Sunday and the reasons for various business houses staying open on the Lord's day.

In dealing with the situation I want and intend to be fair. I do not place myself in the position of prosecutor, jury or judge but I do want to make a few suggestions and call your attention to some things with which you may agree or disagree.

In the first place the church has no power to force her members to do anything that she or even the Holy Bible prescribes, much less has she the right or the power to compel others to accept the scriptural laws that she would like to see observed. Every time, in the past, when the church has used force it has been to her sorrow and distress and if such a step were undertaken in our midst, history would surely repeat itself.

Not even God Almighty, the creator and Father of us all, uses force in his dealings with his earthly children. But He has given us definite laws including one for the Sabbath. He has also created us with an understanding mind and a free will to obey or disobey his commands, with definite promises to both those who are obedient and those who are disobedient. And on account of his great love for us, he has also provided a way of forgiveness for repentant transgressors, namely the atonement for sin, made by Jesus Christ, his Son, our Lord.

If God himself does not use force, what right have we, in the name of the church, even to think of doing so.

However God has repeatedly called the attention of his children, thru the prophets and writers of the scriptures to transgressions of his law, and as a minister in his church and the shepherd of a flock I feel it is my duty to bring before you the matter of Sunday observance and I have no apologies to offer.

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy, six days shalt thou labor and do all that thou hast to do."

What is labor?

Well, to me it means to toil or to work at some occupation in which there is remuneration of some kind. "Doing" as the commandment says, "what you have to do," whether it be in your own home, on a farm or at some place of business.

Now in my own mind I conscientiously believe that there is a distinction, with a difference to be drawn between labor and recreation on the Sabbath.

For recreation does not involve labor, if it did, it would simply be a misnomer. But recreation can be carried to such an extent on the Lord's day that the first clause of the fourth commandment is obviously impossible, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Does not such excess at least for a Christian, become a sacrilege?

Undoubtedly there are employments that seem necessary on the Lord's day. The government and the state make it lawful for railroads and businesses to operate on Sunday, for the Post Office to distribute mail, for physicians and nurses to administer to the sick, for restaurants and boarding houses and hotels to serve meals for drug stores to sell medicine, for public utilities to function, for officers of the law and firemen to remain on duty, all of these activities by public consent seem to be expedient and right. And this state with others, recognizes many more activities as within the pale of the law.

But my friends the laws of the State are not modeled in many cases, after God's laws, for which some are profoundly regretful. However, God's law deals with the individual and not the masses, and to us as individuals comes God's message, "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy, six days shalt thou labor and do all that thou hast to do, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God, in it thou shalt do no manner of work, neither thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy servants, nor thy cattle nor the stranger that is within thy gates."

Let us further examine this fourth commandment and in doing so we find the consideration and kindness of God for even the cattle, if you care to look on it in that light. And then we must not overlook the responsibility that this law places on each one of us in regard to our servants and the strangers in our midst.

Our servants? Are they not all of those who serve us in any way, whether they be those in our household or those who wait on us in any other capacity. My friends, it is bad enough when we ourselves break God's law of the Sabbath, but when we lead others to transgress the fourth commandment, yes even compel them to serve us on the Lord's day is not our sin, also, the sin of those who render to us their service of labor? Without judging but merely by way of suggestion let me state some of the ways in which you and I am apt to break the Sabbath law.

By having a servant labor for us, if we can afford one. By making purchases or receiving deliveries from grocers, drug stores or from any other place of business. By indulging in the purchase of tobacco, soft drinks, shoes or gasoline which we could as well provide on Saturday or do without on Sunday. And coming mighty close to home, could we not if we really considered the other fellow purchase both ice and milk on Saturday afternoon to last us till the Monday morning delivery. I doubt not that it would even do us much good to deny ourselves some comforts on Sunday if we failed to provide them on Saturday.

I hesitate to mention for fear of being misunderstood the attending of the picture show, or ball games where there is a price of admission or the hiring of a golf caddy on Sunday. In any of these pursuits of pleasure I can see no more harm than in taking an automobile ride or a walk for pleasure or for recreation on Sunday, except that commercialized recreation involves the service of labor and in labor is the fourth commandment broken. But if one of you must be your own judge, you and I must draw our own lines, we have no right to throw self righteous stones when in our own homes and in our own conduct we do not conform to God Almighty's law for the Sabbath.

We can accomplish much by example, if we profess to be Christians in Cameron live up to the requirements of the fourth commandment, some who would really like to observe Sunday would be able to do so without fear of losing their week day customers, while others who are staying open confessedly for profit would find that Sunday labor did not pay.

Where should each one of us draw our line? Certainly it would not be the same for each one of us. Some things that seem right for me to do would be dead wrong for some of you.

But there is a simple way for you and for me to decide what is right and what is wrong for us on the Sabbath day and that is by realizing the presence of our Lord Jesus with us on that day, having him with us in our homes and taking him with us, wherever we go; then we will do only those things that we know will please him and our Sabbath will be kept aright.

May God bless us with a sense of his near presence, to guide us, to protect us and to keep us, and may we know what it is to walk close to him all our life long.

SANTA FE EXHIBITS FROM TERRITORY VIEWED BY MANY IN CAMERON

The following account of the day Thursday with the Santa Fe Farm and Home Special that arrived in Cameron, will be of interest.

All attendance records were broken Thursday when the counting machines ticked off 2920 visitors who at Cameron passed through the Farm and Home Special train which is on a six weeks cruise over the Santa Fe Lines in Texas and carrying exhibits prepared at the A. & M. College of Texas to portray useful new information for Texas farmers and Texas housewives. The train, making three to four stops a day was visited last week in southeast Texas by more than 19,000 people with a record attendance at Silsbee of 2710 and has visited Alvin, Rosenberg, Sealy, Bay City, Wharton, Glen Flora, Eagle Lake, Bellville, Brenham, Somerville, Caldwell, Cameron and Rogers this week Rogers being the last stop today. An average of 3,500 people per day have visited the train to hear the lectures and view the exhibits. On Wednesday the attendance was more than 6,100. One prominent stockman came more than sixty miles to see the train at Brenham and another came fifty miles to visit the train at Caldwell. 1200 people heard the lectures and viewed the exhibits.

At Cameron a large number saw the exhibits. A number of A. & M. College officials met the train here and Dean A. J. Kyle of the school of agriculture and Sterling C. Evans, joined the train.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BETTER HOMES MOVE AGAIN FOR 1928

LIONS CLUB TO SPONSOR MOVE- MENT IN CAMERON AGAIN THIS YEAR

The latest returns in the 1928 campaign of Better Homes in America indicate an extraordinary increase since last year in the number of communities taking part. Chairmen of local committees are appointed anew each fall by Better Homes in America. A few weeks ago the appointments for the 1928 campaign were sent out. The Lions Club with R. P. Jeter as chairman will sponsor the campaign here. At this stage in last year's campaign the central office of this educational organization at Washington had received acceptances from local and county Better Homes chairmen in about seventeen hundred communities. So far in the 1928 campaign the number has reached the neighborhood of twenty-six hundred. When we consider that last year the final number of local and county chairmen, at the time of Better Homes Week in April, had grown to nearly four thousand, it is plain that this year the number of communities taking part may reach a large figure.

Secretary Hoover, as president of Better Homes in America, made the appointments of local chairmen. The central office, at 1653 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., is engaged in active supervision of the work of the various local committees. The local committees have already begun to organize their communities for the Better Homes campaign. Their purpose is to show their communities how to have more attractive, more comfortable homes at moderate expense.

In some parts of the country local committees report that they themselves have selected the designs for houses of from three to six rooms, at costs including lot, ranging from three thousand to ten thousand dollars, and that they themselves will build the houses and furnish them as an object lesson to their communities in achieving beauty and comfort with small expenditure. Committees in other communities report plans to borrow attractive houses recently completed, furnish them on a carefully prepared budget and demonstrate them to their communities during Better Homes Week next April. Still other committees plan to remodel and to refurnish old houses.

Such demonstrations of complete houses are more likely to take place in cities than in rural regions. It is more difficult to organize an extensive campaign in country sections. But the rural committees have a multitude of ideas on the subject of improving homes. Some of them are planning to exhibit an improved kitchen or improved living room to the farmwives of the community or of the whole county. Many communities will campaign to clean up yards and public places, making them generally more attractive. Home architecture and home garden contests are an interesting feature in many communities. In some cases the local chairman write of plans to organize automobile tours, some times county wide, of homes which have been notably improved in some way during the past year. Thrift tours of this sort the whole community may get the benefit of the ingenuity which certain members of it have shown in improving their homes at small expense.

The proportions already reached by the 1928 Better Homes campaign in the various sections of the country bear witness to the degree of importance that our citizens are beginning to attach to the building of attractive, comfortable, healthful homes within the reach of families of modest income.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so that no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Rockdale Girl Dies on Day She Was to Have to Become Bride

Rockdale, Tex., Jan. 21.—The remains of Miss Mabel Peterson, who died in a Taylor sanitarium Thursday night, following a ten day illness with influenza, followed by acute complications, were brought to Rockdale from Thrall Friday afternoon, and conveyed to the Pleasant Hill church nine miles south of town, where funeral services were held. Reverend Chas. F. Smith, of the Rockdale Methodist church officiated. Interment was made in the family plot at Pleasant Hill cemetery. The newly made mound was covered with a blanket of flowers, rare tributes from friends and relatives.

Miss Peterson had been the popular employee of the Scarbrough and Hicks company at Rockdale for eight years.

The men from the establishment acted as pallbearers and the entire firm attended the funeral in a body.

Surviving are her father, R. C. Peterson of Thrall; four sisters, Mrs. Bernard Barber, Misses Beatrice, Jewel and Word Peterson; two brothers, John and Homer Peterson, all of Rockdale.

A sad commentary is that Miss Peterson was to have been married on the day of her passing.

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

WALKER'S CREEK CHURCH AND COMMUNITY NEWS

ODELL JAMESON, Pastor

A DEED OF KINDNESS

Through the courtesy of Mr. White and The Cameron Herald, a space in this paper has been given to Walker's Creek Church and Community News, which will appear twice a month, in every other issue. This fine spirit of cooperation, on their part, should prove to us their devoted attitude to our church and community prosperity. In return for this kind deed, we should feel it our privilege and duty to support them in every way possible.

The Herald no doubt believes the universal fact that through the press more battles are won than on the battle fields, and just as true as this statement is another fact, that through the press our rural districts will and must, keep up their contributions to our present march of civilization.

LAST SUNDAY'S SERVICES

Last Sunday was one of the best days we have had in our church in a long time. Perhaps the largest Sunday School we have had in two years were present, and were on time. The newly installed Six Point Record System is working wonderfully. It is the aim of the Superintendent, Mrs. H. H. Chamberlain, to reach the Standard of Excellence within another month or two. When this is done, perhaps our Sunday School will be the only rural Sunday school in our Association having attained the A-1 Standard.

At both morning and night service, the church house was all but full. At the night service we had 29 visitors. About ten of this number were Baptists and living in our community. Others were from Little River, Briary and Cameron. Five Baylor College girls were present. At the night service, Misses Mary Lou McCall and Vera Angell rendered a fine duet. Then Mr. Jimmie Chamberlain made a brief report on Mr. M. H. Wolf's address at Cameron that evening.

The church treasurer stated Sunday that the new budget and our new financial system had started off fine. The church authorized him to write a letter to every member of the church, asking them to make their pledges at once, in order to see how to better carry on the Lord's work.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On Sunday, February 5, Mr. Dick Vandervolk will bring a good message. Vandervolk is a native of Holland, but is at present a student in Baylor University. Be sure and come out to hear him tell of his native land and customs.

WITH OUR PEOPLE

Miss Marietta Boyd and four of her Baylor College friends spent the week end with her parents.

Another of our girls off at school, Miss Lois Mock, visited her parents, and she too, brought a girl friend, Miss Mary Louise Wright.

Two new families have moved into our neighborhood and we are glad to welcome them. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Draygo and son and Mr. and Mrs. Nichols.

Mr. Laywell who has spent the last two weeks in bed, caused by double pneumonia, is now sitting up by the fireside.

Miss Ethel Lee Mock has also been sick but she too will soon be back in school.

Our school has just had two nice drinking fountains installed. The two efficient teachers, Mr. Geo. Angell and Mrs. Freddie Lee Brown, are doing all they can to make our school an A-1 Standard. So far as the writer knows, they have met all the requirements which is demanded by the State Board of Education.

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

ARTICLE FOUR

"COTTON BROUGHT TEARS"

SOMETHING happened in 1926, something that the future historian is likely to set down as the turning point in the story of American Cotton—it was the tragedy of ruinous success.

Upon forty-eight million acres, an army of men, white and black, and even of women and children had been toiling to produce the cotton crop on which their living depended. Anxiously they had watched the weather, and vigilantly they had guarded against insect pests. This time, all conditions had been favorable to a remarkable degree. The stalks had grown thickly, blossomed and then fluffed out in millions of snowy bolls. Nature had smiled, the boll-weevil had remained in check and each rejoicing planter had seen a vision of prosperity arising from his fields. Then he sought the market with his precious product, and his hopes crashed suddenly into black despair.

For from all over the cotton fields of the South, there came rolling a snowy flood—nine billion pounds—a billion pounds more than had been expected! Buyers were deluged; prices broke before its onrush. The hoped-for eighteen cents a pound crumbled to a scant twelve cents, which was less than the average cost of production.

Two million farmers and their families confronted ruin. For months most of them had been living on their prospective crops. Pledged at the supposedly safe figure of approximately fourteen cents a pound, it had furnished the credit for purchasing food, clothing and farm supplies. The small farmer who sold twenty bales—ten thousand pounds—was thus two hundred dollars poorer than he had reckoned himself before disposing of his crop. He could not pay his debts to the storekeeper and the banker. "Cotton brought tears instead of cash."

And yet, strange irony of fate!—it need not have been a disaster, because only eight months after this tragic sacrifice, the same cotton was selling in the open markets of the world for eighteen cents a pound. The small farmer with his twenty bales might have paid all his debts and then have deposited four hundred dollars in the savings bank, could he have held his crop. Clearly the economics of the cotton industry must be sadly out of joint when so large a section of the nation's hard-working producers could be thus imperiled. There arose from many States a mighty cry for help to which the whole nation turned its attention.

The President appointed a commission to devise measures of temporary relief. Loaning corporations were formed and millions of dollars of credit were subscribed to meet the emergency, although little of the money subscribed actually was used. Cooperative associations in some of the States withheld cotton from the market for a time.

This experience set men to thinking as they had not thought before. Some way must be found of protecting from chaotic conditions the millions upon whose shoulders rested the responsibility of supplying the world with an indispensable product.

This was the most immediate need, but it formed only one side of a problem which had another side of a different kind. It was recalled that only a few years earlier, the millmen and their dependents had encountered hardships, and the great purchasing public had been severely taxed because the production of raw cotton had been hardly enough to supply the world's demand and the price had soared to exorbitant figures. In 1919, it reached an average of 35.4 cents a pound; in 1923 and 1924, it brought an average of 28.7 cents and 24.7 cents, respectively. These prices must be paid by spinners, weavers, knitters and other manufacturers if their great mills were not to stand idle and their half-million workers to remain unemployed.

Two million farmers and their families confronted ruin

They paid them perforce and the prices of their products rose in consequence.

Even the careless public recalled stories of how the German people during the War had been compelled to resort to paper clothing when cotton could not be had, and they remembered from their own experience how difficult and expensive it had been to replenish supplies of underwear and household cloths in the year following the Armistice.

In the light of these experiences, it was realized that the problem of the cotton grower was also one of the manufacturer and of every user of sheets, towels and napkins. It also was apparent that the problems of the consumer and manufacturer of cotton goods were of concern to the producer of raw cotton.

The despotic and erratic rule of King Cotton must be curbed. America's second largest industry stood in urgent need of corrective measures.

County Wins Tax Suit

Last week was tried the case of the State and County and certain school and road districts against the Santa Fe railroad for delinquent taxes for 1926. A jury was waived at the conclusion of the evidence and the matters of fact and law left for the court and last Friday the court rendered judgment for plaintiff for the amount sued for $3,051. Defendant gave notice of appeal to Court of Civil Appeals at Austin. The defendant paid part of its taxes and the amount sued for was the amount it claimed excessive due to its claim of over valuation. The outcome will be interesting to the public as the 1927 taxes are in the same status.

Judge Watson was in Marlin the early part of the week holding court for Judge Dodson.

Mrs. K. K. Robbins and Miss Leila Woolley and Judges Jeff T. Kemp and John Watson were in Rockdale Tuesday afternoon witnessing exhibitions of the Missouri Pacific Health train which is operated in connection with the State Department of Health, the United States Service and local authorities along the route.

The weather reduced us a little last Sunday. This is a reminder that those who are well should put forth an extra effort on cold and rainy days to make up for those who are indisposed, but who would come if the weather were good.

The series of sermons relating faith and living to providence are bringing out many expressions of interest and appreciation. Next Sunday at eleven o'clock the series will be continued the special subject being, "Obedience and Providence."

The sermon subject at seven o'clock at night will be "We would see Jesus." The night services are free and easy and full of life. Come and help make the song service boom.

The choir stays right on the job and has something interesting and helpful every service. Sunday night in addition to the regular special number an echo song will be sung in connection with the song service.

Cleaning Saves Buying!

It has often been demonstrated that garments kept fresh and spotless by frequent visits to the cleaner, last much longer than if allowed to become too soiled. Many kinds of stains, perspiration, grease and gritty dust, actually weaken fabric if not removed promptly, and clothes wear out sooner than they should.

Dry cleaning costs little and lengthens the life of your clothes.

Hon. Henry Watterson, the distinguished editor of the Courier-Journal, will lecture in Cameron some time during next March. He will doubtless draw a big audience.

President Roosevelt created another sensation last Thursday night by inviting a number of negroes to the judicial reception at the White House. Several were present in low neck evening gowns. A number of congressmen left the premises as soon as they discovered what was on the tapis. It appears that the Booker Washington affair was a very tame one compared with this.

Gov. Lanham in his message to the legislature, placed great stress on compliance with platform measures. The present platform has no rough places in it, but, however, the governors recommendations are not inoperative.

Last Saturday prohibition was defeated in Hardeman county by 48 majority.

Norfleet Says More Women Are Victims of Confidence Men Now

(Temple Telegram)

Ten women to every man now number among the victims of the confidence games of crooks and grafters, according to J. Frank Norfleet, noted man-hunter, who was a visitor in Temple for a few hours yesterday.

"There are more grafters and crooks today than ever before. They are working to get smaller amounts but there are more of them. They use every known scheme to gain the confidence of a woman and then fleece them of their life savings," he said.

The crooks work all walks of life, however, the ranchman detective said, stating that bankers suffer most as the prey of crooks because more crooks try more different schemes on them. The doctors are the second most preyed upon, but the doctors are more likely to report their being swindled to the authorities. Women, however, are the object of the crooks now, the detective warned.

Norfleet who was 'fleece' out of $45,000 by a notorious gang of confidence men, gave up his Hale Center ranch and tracked down every man of the gang, landing them all either in the grave or the penitentiary. Since then he has been a man-hunter working on special cases of all kinds. Just now he lacks only one murderer of having his full assignment, but has many confidence gangs to look up.

"I never did get my $45,000 back, he said, "but my book is selling all the time and I'm gaining."

He recently trailed a confidence man who swindled eleven Amarillo women out of their life savings, he said while here yesterday. "I tracked the man back to historic little Cannonburgh, Pa., where is the famous old Blackhorse tavern frequented by General Washington in revolutionary days.

"I got permission as a writer to stay at a little log cabin that had been the first college west of the Alleghany mountains, built by the famous educator, Carolina, in 1870. I stayed there until my man came home to his house in the neighborhood. Then I gave him thirty minutes to kiss his wife and take off his guns—he was a two gun man down in Texas.

"When I walked in his wife was reading a book to him and stroking his brow. The first thing I saw was his two .45's crossed on the mantel so that he could get them easily. I went in and asked him if his car was number so and so, using a number I had copied from his car in front of the house. I worked around to get light on the card I was reading and got between him and his guns. He agreed to go to the police station with me, thinking it a traffic violation charge. I saw suddenly that his wife had been reading to him from my book and feared that he would recognize me, but he did not so I got him."

BY ORDER OF CITY COUNCIL

Better Relations For Dealer and Owner Aim of Chevrolet

National sales meetings of the most elaborate order ever attempted in the automobile industry are being held again this year by the Chevrolet Motor Company, with crews of factory officials blanketing the country in a series of meetings that will bring them into direct contact with every dealer and associate dealer in the United States, declares Mike Coleman of the Coleman Chevrolet Company.

Designed to improve the dealer's relations with the public by schooling him thoroughly in every phase of automobile merchandising and designed to further the company's spectacular 1928 sales program which calls for the outlet of more than a million units, the meetings are attracting from every city, town and hamlet in the country the more than 20,000 people who make up the factory and dealer selling organization of the Chevrolet

Motor Company.

R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales, and H. J. Klingler, general sales manager, will have charge of the two parties, Mr. Grant covering the Eastern half of the country and Mr. Klingler the Western half.

The itinerary will take the two parties into 36 cities in key centers throughout the country to which dealers in neighboring towns have ready access. Beginning with the meeting of New York on January 11, the meetings are continuing for ten weeks until the final session at Birmingham on March 22.

Each meeting consists of a three-hour afternoon program—usually held at the largest auditorium in town—followed by an elaborate evening banquet, while ample time has been provided for dealers to take up their individual problems with the factory officials.

More than a carload of scenery, props, stage properties and special lighting equipment are necessary for the presentation of the sales program in every city. A stage manager and a specially trained show crew direct the work behind the stage, while in front of the footlights the dealer organization sees the most interesting sales show ever presented in the industry.

Are You Overdoing?

Overwork Throws a Heavy Burden on the Kidneys.

OVERWORK, rich foods and stimulating drinks put extra burdens on our kidneys. When the kidneys slow up, impurities remain in the blood and are apt to make one languid, tired and aching, with dull headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning is scanty or burning secretions.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Are endorsed by users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

To the Advertisers in the Cameron Herald

We wish to express our appreciation to those who advertise in The Cameron Herald and we feel that we are helping you "deliver the goods." Advertising is the oldest and surest way of achieving a prosperous business. For you are then keeping your business before the public, which is so essentially necessary that it reminds us of one of the oldest sayings we know of, "It pays to Advertise." Do you know of a better way to success? Some say good service is better, but we for one disagree, for when people go to your store after reading your advertisements, don't they naturally expect your polite service. Have you ever stopped to think that you can look around from where you are sitting and count the different things that have won success, merely by advertising. Advertising improves your business, regardless of its success. Try and see if your business doesn't improve.

We will be more than glad to help do this, and feel confident that you will deem it worthy, just as the other advertisers of The Cameron Herald do.

We would also appreciate receiving your ads in the early part of the week. If you do this, the paper will always be out on time (Thursday afternoon). The people in the country will then have plenty time to read over the Saturday Specials. We appreciate your business and will do our best to give you the satisfaction you expect of us.

TO THE VOTERS

I will be in my office collecting taxes until February 1st and will not be able to make a canvas of the voters until that time, but will make an effort to see each one and talk to them about my race for re-election to the office of tax assessor and collector.

On account of the duties that necessitates me staying at my post it is impossible for me to see the voters this week. My first duty is to my office and I have always given the people my best service.

I sincerely appreciate the many expressions of good will and support I have received and I solicit the vote and support of the people, although I cannot at this time see them. I will make a house to house canvas next week.

Sincerely yours,

TOM CONNALLY IS IN RACE FOR SENATE

MARLIN DEMOCRAT SHOVES
HAT IN RING FOR PLACE ON TUESDAY

Marlin, Texas, Jan. 24.—Congressman Tom Connally Tuesday announced his candidacy for the Senate in the following statement:

"I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator in the 1928 primaries. At a later date I shall make a formal announcement and present the platform upon which I shall make the race."

When asked regarding the Ku Klux Klan issue, which has been prominent in Texas politics, Mr. Connally said: "I have never been and never expect to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan. I am opposed to secrecy in politics or government."

Mr. Connally further said: "Outstanding issues before the people of the United States are corruption in the election of United States Senators, excessive campaign funds, the efforts of monopolistic interests to control the Senate and Senators, taxation, adequate and workable farm relief, law enforcement and transportation. These are other public questions will be discussed by me at the proper time."

"I am a Democrat and shall stand upon the fundamental principles of Democracy. I expect to make an active campaign of the State."

Mr. Connally has served as Representative in Congress from the Central Texas District for the last ten years. He is a native of McClellan county. He graduated from the law department of the University of Texas. He served as a member of the Texas House of Representatives in the 27th and 28th Legislatures (1901-03). From 1906 to 1910 he was Prosecuting Attorney for Falls County. For many years he was prominent and successful in the practice of law at Marlin. In 1916 he was elected to Congress. He is a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs and has been active in the work of that committee.

In 1924 he served as a member of a special congressional committee which visited Europe to investigate United States shipping. He has also been a delegate to the Interparliamentary Union which met in Geneva.

Mr. Connally has taken an aggressive and prominent part in Congress as a defender and advocate of Democratic principles. He is regarded as one of the best debaters in the House. During the presidential and congressional campaigns Mr. Connally has spoken in many of the doubtful states under the direction of the National Democratic Committee. His services are in demand in each campaign.

BUYING MILK COWS TO FINANCE A FARM

NOW IN VOGUE IN TRAVIS COUNTY MAY BECOME POPULAR HERE

At the Commercial Club meeting Monday night, R. H. McIntosh, chairman of the committee on home industry and factories reported having visited the new cheese factory at Round Rock.

He was very favorably impressed with the new Texas industry and will promote a similar one for Cameron.

He found the factory paying more for butter fat than cream stations pay, the difference in price being ten cents a pound. He was also impressed with the fact that the new factory made money from the day it was opened, when only a small amount of milk was received.

An Austin banker told him that bankers who would not advance a four mule farmer $500 to make a crop would advance him the amount with which to buy milk cows and the cow's milk would pay for making the crop and pay for the cows too.

Directors are much interested in the cheese factory as an aid to better farming and voted the financial support necessary to put Mr. McIntosh's plans in motion.

FROM THE MAIL BOX

Beeville, Tex., Jan. 19, 1928.

Editor Cameron Herald,

Dear Sir

After having met a Milam county man and meeting on old friend the next day from your county, who gave me a copy of your paper I just want to say that the subject of this sketch the Hon. B. F. Gibson is one of the best, truest and bravest men I have ever met. On two occasions I saw him in a hair raising and soul stirring conflict that tried mens souls, against great odds and he hammered his way to victory and only his iron nerve and staying qualities kept him from being killed. A gentleman, calm and mild, an old trail driver, newspaper man for several years, smooth politician and years ago was one of the foremost writers in the State. Will say in conclusion that Milam county is fortunate indeed to have as a citizen a man of such sterling qualities, brave and true, who never forgets a friend and who is worthy of any position you may offer him in the person of B. F. Gibson. Am on my way to Mexico and on returning will go to Marlin and will call and see you.

Yours truly,
Jake Ratliff.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

HOUSTON DEMOCRATS ARE FOR AL AND DAN

ROW OVER RESOLUTION BUT ENDORSEMENT IN GIVEN
AFTER DEBATE

Houston, Texas, Jan. 24.—Houston, prospective host to the Democratic National Convention in June, viewed the flurry in the city Democratic executive committee Monday over the indorsement of Al Smith of New York for President and Gov. Dan Moody as his running mate, with various emotions.

George E. Woods, chairman and also city manager of Houston, asserted Tuesday that presentation of the resolution was inopportune and that its adoption or rejection by the committee would have meant nothing more than similar action by any other five men.

James L. Bailey, Houston lawyer, also a member of the committee, and father of the resolution, insisted that it had an important slant and was intended to "show the country this section of the country was no longer a Ku Klux Klan stronghold."

In this connection he pointed to what he said was previous affiliation of one member of the committee with the Klan.

"It has been widely circulated in the East," he said, "that Houston and Texas is honeycombed with 'kluxers' and I wanted it just as widely known that it is not."

The city Democratic executive committee, Mr. Woods explained, is clothed only with the power to attend to preliminaries, such as designating polling places in city elections, but is not charged with the duty of indorsing or rejecting any policy or any person. The committee, he told the Associated Press, never before has met to take such action as that contemplated by Mr. Bailey. He added that he had no objection to indorsement of Smith and Moody, but was to be host to the convention, it would not only be good strategy but thought that inasmuch as Houston within the limits of good taste as well for the committee to take no action.

Called to Praise Jones

The meeting of the committee was called by Mr. Bailey ostensibly to pass a resolution praising Jesse H. Jones of Houston for his efforts in bringing the convention here. When the meeting got under way, Mr. Bailey let it be known that it also contained an indorsement of Smith and Moody.

The resolution reads in part as follows:

"Whereas the great Governor of the State of New York has repeatedly come out in clear, ringing tones for the enforcement of all laws, and has a record of achievement equaled by no other chief executive of New York or any other state and whereas, this committee believes that the Honorable Al Smith is the logical candidate to lead the Democratic hosts to victory next November and that he will become another outstanding President in the history of the Nation, therefore, be it resolved, this committee go on record as indorsing his stand for law enforcement and the New York Governor for the Democratic nomination for President of these United States, and hereby expresses the hope he will be the choice of the Houston convention for President."

The resolution continued with an indorsement of Governor Moody as Smith's running mate.

Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. R. L. Batte gave a surprise birthday luncheon on last Monday for her daughter, Miss Mary Belle, Miss Lucille Ford, one of the popular teachers; Lola Clinton and Dorothy Denison whose birthdays all come close together in the month of January. The luncheon was served at exactly six o'clock and was a complete surprise to all.

On three small tables were placed bamboo trays on which were lovely luncheon cloths with napkins to match. In the center were vases covered in red carnations. Other decorations featured red hearts hinting to the approach of Valentine. Place cards were lovely little hearts bearing names of guests and at the place for the honoree were packages wrapped in red paper. These contained beaded bags and broaches.

Mrs. Batte assisted by Lelia Maurine, Lelia Marie and Patricia Batte served a two course luncheon, a salad and an ice. Later all guests departed to the New Hefley to see the picture 'Don Q.'

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sourstomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

ART MASTERPIECES TO BE SHOWN HERE

REPRODUCTIONS OF MASTERS
NUMBERING 150 WILL BE SHOWN FEB. 16-18

Reproductions of works of Artists of many generations will be on display Wednesday through Saturday, February 16 to 18.

This collection consists of 150 Masterpieces representing the French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German and American schools of art. Most of these are the masterpieces studied by the schools. Famous portraits landscapes, marines and pastoral scenes in the colors of the original canvases are on display.

This excellent collection will be hung in an uptown building and the small fee of 10c will be charged for admission. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used to purchase pictures for our schools.

Descriptions of 'Mona Lisa,' 'Dance of the Nymphs,' and 'The Whistling Boy' will be printed in The Herald from week to week until the exhibition.

Here is a sketch of 'The Windmill' by Jacob Van Ruysdael, the Dutch painter:

We are told that the name Ruysdael came from a castle and hamlet in Holland. The name signified 'roaring water,' and hence it is appropriate for our painter, since so many of his pictures contain roaring torrents or swirling clouds. Isn't this true of 'The Windmill?' Notice the wonderful sky.

The great dark clouds are rolling in. We wonder with all these clouds, how it happens that there is no wind. But the artist depicts that ominous moment when there is that deadly stillness prevailing everything just before the storm breaks. That is a moment filled with an awesome feeling and a sense of mystery. In a short time, perhaps another minute the arms of the old windmill will be creaking and the quiet water will be seething and the rain will be falling.

We can only hope that when the moment comes the peasants will be safely housed that the sail boat will be well anchored in a safe harbor, that the breakwater will be strong enough to hold the waves in place. Yes, the windmill is a great, stern, solemn sentinel making for calm and assurance in the midst of the whirling element.

Jacob Van Ruysdael the painter of 'The Windmill,' was a melancholy man, who sought to find "through the visible features of nature a philosophy of life." In so doing he gave his own restlessness of his landscape. He seems to have only one view and that a rather gloomy one. The bright, the gay, the parking, the animated did not appeal to him. His life was radiant but in art he always leaned toward the sad, the melancholy, the mysterious. He loved to paint the mountain solitude, the silence of the deep woods; the hush of the ravine were broken only by the dull roar of the water falling over the rocks and he allowed no gay color, sunlight, no blue sky to distract the attention.

The scene in 'The Windmill' is a simple scene. It is a point of land that juts out into the quiet river which shows a few ripples and eddies in the immediate foreground. A few of the characteristic buildings are seen, and three peasant women are just returning home. The windmill to a degree indicates the industry of Holland and the occupation of the people. Ruysdael's pictures bear more remarkable resemblance to his country than any other Dutch painter's.

Branchville News

The school children were quite busy last week with their spring cleaning, everything has been put in order. They are hoping when the inspector comes their school will be classed as an A-1 Standard rural school. Our school is an exception to most rural schools for we have a nine month's term and that equals any city school.

The boys and girls have two new tennis courts. The girls played a matched game with Calvert Friday afternoon. The players are Misses Dorothy Foster and Sarah Harlan. They played a losing game but owing to the fact that they had very little practice they did unusually well.

The B. Y. P. U. had their regular meeting Sunday night and everyone had their parts up and the program was very good.

Brother J. O. Jameson will be here next Sunday to preach Sunday morning and night at the Baptist church.

There was an old time tacky party at the school house Saturday night sponsored by the social community Mesdames Will Looney, Fred Smith and Miss Rushing. Most everyone was drawn for the occasion. There were costumes of every type, most of them were of the colonial type. There was a grand march and judges decided on the tackiest couple. The prize was a big stick of candy and was awarded to Mrs. O. F. Robinett and Mr. Joe Foster. Big red apples and stick candy were passed to all. There were quite a few visitors attending the party from Calvert, Mayfield and Port Sullivan. Everyone seemed to enjoy the party so much, old people went home feeling fifteen years younger.

Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yates and children visited Mrs. C. Eads in Heidenheimer this week end.

Mrs. C. E. Porter spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. T. L. Randolph.

Misses Ruth and Mary Henderson were guests in the Fred Smith home Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Morine Smith visited Miss Rushing this week end.

Miss Raley was in Cameron Saturday on business.

Mr. Walter Henson was a Cameron visitor Friday.

Birthday Party

On Friday afternoon, January 20th, twentyfour little girls and boys gathered at the home of Adele's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Slama, to celebrate her seventh birthday. Many games were enjoyed on the outside with Misses Ethel Mondrik and Miladie Slama leading them in the games. In the latter part of the afternoon, they were called in, where they found a very beautifully decorated table, with strips of pink and blue crepe paper from the electric light to the corners of the table. A pink birthday cake with seven lighted pink candles stood in the center with pink and blue baby ribbon from the cake center to each plate. A rail fence of the large stick candy surrounded the cake. They were each asked to pull their ribbon. Josephine Eickenhorst pulled the dime, Dorothy Kubecka the thimble, Ruby Lee Sprott the ring and Billy Balhorn, Jr., the button. Mrs. Slama was assisted by Misses Lillian Mondrik, Geneva Dakel and Edna Slama in serving cakes, lemonade and candy. Those present were: Mildred Michalka, Josephine Eickenhorst, Mildred Parma, Mary Ruth Sutter, Harvey Sutter, Jesse Clarabell Martin Robert Lee Dakel, August Kuntz, Jr., Dorothy Plocek, Dorothy Kubecka, Wilbur Sutter, Magdaline Sutter, Agnes Sutter, Victoria Sutter, Billy Balhorn Jr., Vlasta Hrozek, Miladie Hrozek, Dorothy Sebesta, Magdaline Michalka, Alice Striznek, Annie Michalka, Ruby Lee Sprott, Bill Sprott, Evelyn Lois Bird of Minerva. When they left for home, they were given, as a souvenir, a large stick of candy with either a pink or blue ribbon tied around it. Little Adele was a recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Power and Light

By ROVENA WRIGHT PHARES

The first of this tale is of bygone days
Whic hour parents used to know—
A story of times when the only light
Was a lamp or a candle's glow;
A story of times when the charcoal man
Drove up and down the street
And sold black stuff by the townsack full
To burn for the sad iron's heat.
Now these were the days of weary backs,
Of eyes that grew dull and strained,
Of blistered hands, long hours of work,
And darkness on days that rained.
But the latter part is the song of joy—
A song of the New Today—
When power is not a labored heart
Nor muscles which work and play;
When a woman pushes a switch for light,
Has an iron with electric heat,
And a vacuum cleaner to clean the rugs
Which she used to sweep and beat.
Now electric power is clean and cheap—
It will serve one night and day,
And it makes a home so easy to keep
And a pleasant place to stay.
It has brought us the gift of the radio,
The cooling breeze of the fan,
The curling iron, and electric range,
And the pad for the warming pan,
The handy toaster and waffle iron,
A cabinet with frozen air
That makes ice cubes for cooling drinks
And preserves the food that's there.
At a motion this modern genie comes—
Like the one which Alladdin called;
Just press a button—the hidden wires
Are your servants when once installed.

Providing for the Texas of Today
Planning for the Texas of Tomorrow

Under The Capitol Dome

To the Editor of The Cameron Herald, Dear Sir:

It sure looks like lots of excitement in Texas politics this year, doesn't it? Now that Tom Blanton is in the race for the United States senate against Earle Mayfield we can expect a lot of fur to fly.

I'm not saying that Blanton has got much chance to beat Earle, but he is the hardest and most vicious campaigner in Texas, about as good as Jim Ferguson ever was at his best. Tom has a way of calling things by their first names that will make his campaign speeches talked about a whole lot.

Tom took it in his head some ten or twelve years ago to run for congress from the Abilene district. He made his campaign on a promise to stop congress from going to work at noon and knocking off at three or four o'clock. He told the voters in his district it wasn't right to pay men $10,000 a year to work such hours as that.

Of course, there were some things he didn't tell them in that first campaign. Maybe he didn't know. He didn't tell them that the average congressman spend four or five hours a day running errands for his constituents. When you write to Washington for your grandpa's civil war record or how to patent a new kind of machine, it's your congressman that has to dig up the information for you.

And a lot of work in congress, most of it, in fact, is done in the committee meetings. These committees meet for two or three hours in the mornings and again at night a lot of the time. So you see, four or five hours a day is as long as the congressmen can have for their open sessions.

But there is no doubt a lot of things going on-up at Washington that the people don't approve of, and, believe me, Mr. Editor, Tom Blanton sure will tell the people of Texas about it. And if Earle has been in any of it Tom will tell on him without any hesitation too. And then, Earle may have some things to tell on Tom, too.

Blanton is awfully unpopular up there in Washington with the rest of the congressmen. He says it is because he is the only one that tries to keep them from their little private grafts.

Blanton is going to appeal to the same elements that have supported Ferguson, and it remains to be seen if Jim will support Tom. If he does they may run Earle a pretty close race.

Colquitt and Alvin Owsley are both candidates Earle, and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham has virtually announced as a candidate, but it looks like they will not have much chance. There is one man, however, who will make the strongest race of all if he gets in and that's Tom Conally of Marlin.

Tom is not a vicious campaigner like Blanton, but he is a great orator, has a pleasing personality, a fine record in congress and an excellent war record. He has been laying low, waiting to see if Moody wanted to run for the senate. Now that it is pretty certain Dan is going to seek re-election it is likely that Tom will get in the race most any time. And he's the man Earle has to fear most of all.

Tom has a big following among the ex-service men. When the war came on he was a member of congress, and could have stayed in Washington if he had wanted. Or he could have had a fancy commission as a high ranking officer with a swivel chair job. But he asked to be made a captain of a combat unit and only asked that on the strength of his Spanish-American war record.

Colquitt probably is counting on his prestige as former governor and on the friends he had when governor to put him over. Fifteen years ago he was a good campaigner, but he has not been active in a hot campaign in several years.

Colonel Owsley used to be national commander of the American Legion, and will get lots of legion votes, but he is not generally known to the public outside of his Legion connections. And the Legionnaires will be split if Conally gets in the race.

Mrs. Cunningham, who is from Galveston, has not announced what her platform will be, except that she thinks women should be more in the limelight. She has been a worker in women's clubs and such organizations and probably is depending on them for her support.

So it looks, Mr. Editor like we are in for a hot campaign this year in the senate race. The outsiders know if they let Earle stay too long he will get planted in the job, so they are going to try hard this year to get inside and put him outside.

Respectfully,
Thomas Jefferson Brown.
